

Frances Peck, MA (English), Certified Professional Editor (Hon.), is an editor, writer, and instructor with 30 years' experience. As a plain language specialist, she has worked with clients from the public, private, and nonprofit sectors on a wide range of material — from investigative reports to annual reports, from decisions to policies, from websites to manuals.

For more than a decade, Frances designed and taught writing/editing workshops for the University of Ottawa's Centre for Continuing Education. She spent another decade teaching in the Editing Certificate Program at Simon Fraser University. She currently teaches part-time at the University of British Columbia and, as a trainer with West Coast Editorial Associates, gives workshops across Canada. Clients she has taught for include the federal Labour Program, FINTRAC, House of Commons, Senate, Transportation Safety Board, Canada Revenue Agency, BC Ministry of Justice, Financial Institutions Commission of BC, Office of the Auditor General of BC, WorkSafeBC, College of Nurses of Ontario, and College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario.

Frances prepared the Canadian edition of The St. Martin's Workbook, a university-level grammar exercise book; co-authored the popular HyperGrammar website; wrote Peck's English Pointers, a collection of articles and quizzes available on the Language Portal of Canada; and wrote a regular column for the periodical Language Update.

She is a long-time member of Editors Canada and PLAIN (Plain Language International).
