

Lucy Kenward

Lucy Kenward is a freelance editor and a partner with West Coast Editorial Associates. For more than 20 years, she has helped subject matter experts write clearly and succinctly for a wide variety of audiences.

As a writer and editor, Lucy has worked on many plain language projects, including policy papers and book manuscripts, investigative reports, manuals, and websites. Among her clients are the Canadian Centre for Policy Alternatives, Boston University, Greystone Books, and the Art Canada Institute.

Lucy currently teaches the proofreading course in Simon Fraser University's Editing Certificate program. She also writes and edits learning materials for English as a Foreign Language students and professional and post-secondary courses, including for the Foundation of Administrative Justice, the Critical Thinking Consortium, and Questrom School of Business.

A member of Editors Canada and PLAIN (Plain Language Association International), Lucy holds a Certificate in Book and Magazine Publishing from Centennial College and a Bachelor of Arts degree from Queen's University. She is a winner of the Tom Fairley Award for Editorial Excellence from Editors Canada.